GUMMERE MADE WAR SECRETARY

Capable Y. M. C. A. Man Who Had Charge of Work in This Valley Goes to Deming, New Mexico, to Assume Control of Southern Division Work Among Thirty Thousand Troops.

C. A. Gummere, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Los Angeles county outside the city territories, who is well known in all the towns of the San Gabriel valley, has been appointed as one of the sixteen general secretaries of the United States for war work, and will leave for his post at Deming, New Mexico, next Monday.

Mr. Gummere will have charge of thirty under-secretaries in the Southern military division. His secretaries will have charge of the Y. M. C. A. work among over thirty thousand recruits when the drafted men are called into the training camps.

As is the case at Linda Vista, near San Diego, the war department is building a large Y. M. C. A. assembly hall in each camp, in connection with the work of military camp construction, this building being financed through popular subscription as the result of the campaign carried on through the United States recently by the Y. M. C. A. The appointment of Mr. Gummere to this responsible position was in the nature of a surprise to himself.

Covina Artillery Men Mobilize on August 5

According to a statement made by Captain Brown of the twenty-fourth company of Monrovia, of which the Covina platoon is a part, the company will be called into active service on August 5, and will be centralized at San Pedro in Fort McArthur.

It is expected that full equipment will be available at that time. As orders were received from the war department to that effect. The men will probably receive the greater portion of the first six months of training at this fort.

Speer Loves California After Seeing Wyoming

R. C. Speer, whose ranch is between Covina and Puente, writes a letter to Johnson & Nigg this week from Gillette, Wyoming, after having made the trip from here to there in an automobile.

He says that people of the San Gabriel valley should never forget that they are living in God's country, and Mr. Speer believes that they never would if they could see some of the Godforsaken country he drove through to reach Wyoming. He drove 2100 on 105 gallons of gasoline, and encountered some of the worst roads this side of shell-torn Belgium, he says. He is ready to sing "I Love You California."

Covina Families Are On San Dimas Route

The residents of the valley in the locality of the W. H. Collins and E. T. Cassel ranches have this week been included in the extension of the San Dimas rural route. A recent redistricting of all rural routes has resulted in a number of changes of this character. While these residents east of Covina are in reality affiliated in every way with Covina interests, their postoffice address will hereafter be San Dimas.

NEW ORANGE BLOOM FOLLOWS BLAST OF HEAT.

San Bernardino, July 10.—That a strange new bloom on orange trees has started in various sections of the region which lost its crop by the heat of June, was reported here tonight to John P. Coy, horticultural commissioner. The bloom has begun at Upland, High Grove, and Glendora. That it is possible a new bloom may set the trees with fruit is declared by Coy, but he says it is too early to determine if the new bloom will be general. Vitality of the trees, with no fruit to feed, is forcing the second bloom, it is believed, although fruit men are divided in opinion as to whether there will be generally another bloom. A general reset of fruit would save millions of dollars to the growers.

Popular Covina Girl Has Many Functions

Miss Maybelle Byrdie Chamberlen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Chamberlen, whose marriage to Mr. Roy Smith will take place Tuesday evening, July 24th, at the Church of the Brethren, has been the guest of honor at several social functions during the past week.

The first of these was given by Mrs. Claude Farley and her niece, Miss Ada Deutsch, at the home of the former on first avenue, Los Angeles, Tuesday afternoon. The affair was also given in honor of the four young ladies, who will be bridesmaids at the wedding, Misses Ynez Hannon, Eva Throckmorton, Rebecca Zieger, and Ada Deutsch. The twenty guests were all intimate formal school friends of the bride, and they spent a delightful afternoon visiting and sewing.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. W. B. Hannah entertained with a daintily appointed luncheon at the Woman's Club House in Covina. The large auditorium was beautifully decorated in long boughs of pepper and red flowers, and in the parlors, pink, white and green were the predominating colors. These colors were also carried out in the refreshments of ices, cakes, fruitade, and in the favor baskets of candies. About sixty invitations were issued to friends of the bride-to-be in Covina, Los Angeles, Puente, Lordsburg, Pomona, and Hollywood, and a quantity of beautiful gifts were presented Miss Chamberlen by her loving friends. During the afternoon an impromptu program was given, including vocal solos by Miss Gladys Feiler, who, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Finch, sang, "Why" and "The Owl," both by John Barnes Wells, and "Two's Company" (Rockwell), and piano numbers by Mrs. Brien of Puente. The hostess was assisted throughout the afternoon by Mrs. Glen Riddleberger, Mrs. E. G. Brien, Miss Edith Jakob of Los Angeles, and Mrs. ...

FRANK GARD MADE SECOND LIEUTENANT

Glendora Man Who Was Former Stanford Football Player, Is Commissioned at Presidio—Was Enlisted in Covina Platoon, Coast Artillery—Douglas Writes of Rifle Practice.

In a letter received this week by Summerfield Douglas of the Covina Realty Company, from his son, Lieutenant Howard T. Douglas, the authentic news is given of Frank Gard's commission, which was received by Gard shortly after Douglas was commissioned.

This makes two lieutenantcies given to members of Covina platoon, coast artillery, as was confidently expected when Douglas and Gard entered the training camp at the Presidio in San Francisco.

The two men were about equal in efficiency, with Gard leading in some of the tests at the time of entering the training camp. Douglas is two years older than Gard, which has resulted in his receiving a first lieutenantcy and Gard a second lieutenantcy commission. Douglas is a University of California graduate with two years of university military training, which probably also counted in his favor. The two men, according to advices received from military sources, are leaders in efficiency at the training camp.

In a letter from Douglas this week he speaks of long hikes over the Marin county hills, of drills in throwing hand grenades, bomb throwing, the building of bomb-proof shelters fifteen feet underground, and of rifle and side-arm practice on the range.

At the 600-yard range, Douglas made 42 out of a possible 50 hits. The target is almost indistinguishable at this distance. At the 200-yard range he made 42 out of 50. He speaks of revolver practice, using the silhouette targets, which are targets made of cardboard or canvas, cut out in the shape of a man standing, and operated from the pits by strings.

The men have been living in tents at the rifle range, and although the weather has been cold and foggy, they have been comfortable, Douglas says.

Child Slightly Injured By Crozier's Machine

Lella Oliver, daughter of Mrs. Oliver of College street, was struck by an automobile driven by City Marshal Crozier Tuesday morning.

The accident happened on Citrus avenue in front of the Star theater. The girl, who is fourteen years old, was attended by Dr. Wallace Reed. She sustained minor injuries and bruises.

Quiet Consolidation of P. L. & P. With Southern California Edison Company Is Matter of Surprise to Many—Corporation Will Be More Efficient, Directors Assert.

Users of electric light and power in Covina, Puente, and the towns of the San Gabriel valley may not all realize that the Pacific Light & Power Company and the Southern California Edison Company are now one corporation, to be known under the name of the latter. The consolidation occurred on May 21 of this year, through permission of the California state railroad commission. It is significant to users that the Edison company has always had a much more liberal policy of doing business than the P. L. & P. corporation.

The effect of this consolidation on the users in Covina as well as in the hundred other cities and towns in this portion of the state will be to better the service in every branch, according to the members of the new corporation. There will be no more breaks between districts served, as was the case when the Edison company handled the business in Pomona and the P. L. & P. in Covina. The two districts are now served from the same source. The Covina business is transacted from the Edison office in Monrovia, but the local Covina office will be maintained as usual, with S. F. Jones in charge. District Manager Fred Schwartz will be a frequent visitor through the valley from his Monrovia office.

The new Southern California Edison Company has absorbed many of the big electrical managers of the P. L. & P., and the officers are: John B. Miller, president; W. A. Brackenridge, vice-president and general manager; George C. Ward, formerly vice-president of the P. L. & P.; George I. Cochran, J. C. Drake, and William B. Stant.

Mr. Stant, who is well known to everyone as one of the great pioneers in power development in Southern California, is a large stockholder in the new concern. The total capitalization of the enlarged Southern California Edison Company is now $77,000,000, divided into $38,000,000 in stock, and $39,000,000 of bonds, debentures and notes.

The company has 175,000 consumers, and operates 16 hydro-electric plants of 166,500 horse-power; 8 steam plants of 141,770 horse-power; 138 sub-stations; 362 miles of 150,000 volt transmission power lines; 188 miles of 60,000 volt steel transmission lines; 1608 miles of other transmission lines; 5213 miles of distributing lines; 2 gas plants of 1,650,000 cubic feet daily capacity; 100 miles of high pressure gas mains; nine miles of electric street railway; 50 miles of steam railroad.

The territory served is equal in size to that of the states of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Vermont, Rhode Island, Delaware, and Connecticut.

RED CROSS BENEFIT.

Local and outside talent will appear on a program given at the Baldwin Park school auditorium, Friday evening, July 20, at 8 o'clock. Proceeds for Red Cross. Refreshments free. Admission 25c. Come!

High School Graduate Dies at Sanitarium

James Headley Clague, a Covina high school graduate of this year, died of tuberculosis at the Monrovia sanitarium on Wednesday of this week. He had been at the sanitarium a little over one month.

The young man was the son of Mrs. Blanche Clague of West Covina. At the time of the high school graduation, he was awarded his diploma of graduation, although not present. He had been attending school up until a short time before he was taken to the sanitarium. The funeral will be held Saturday at the Covina Methodist church at 2 o'clock, Rev. S. J. McConnell officiating.

TWO COVINA FIRMS WILL CLOSE STORES

Ax Billy Store and Hays & Brunjes Furnishings Will Move to Blythe in Palo Verde Valley—New Cotton and Alfalfa Country Attracts Live Merchandisers—Both Firms Selling Out.

Two Covina firms, the Ax Billy store, J. D. Fields, proprietor, and Hays & Brunjes, men's furnishings store, managed by Tom Brunjes, have announced this week that they will close out their respective stocks, and will move to Blythe, California, in the Palo Verde valley.

The Ax Billy store has been operated here by Mr. Fields for more than six years, while the clothing store was first started by Ward A. Hays in 1912, afterwards owned by two different proprietors, and lately operated under the present firm name. Mr. Hays always said that the store produced him a paying profit.

Both Mr. Fields and Mr. Brunjes are advertising sales of their entire stocks at cut prices. Mr. Fields owns 80 acres of newly opened country of Blythe, which he has planted to alfalfa. It is the intention of Mr. Fields, Mr. Brunjes and Mr. Hays to operate a department store in Blythe, which is a town and valley of about 4500 inhabitants, and is the coming cotton-growing community of Southern California. Blythe is separated from the Imperial valley by a range of mountains, and is two hundred miles from a large city.

The Covina men believe that there is a fine opportunity for pioneer merchandising in the valley, and are willing to back their belief with their money and energy.

MILLER IS APPOINTED TO DEFENSE COUNCIL

H. A. Miller of Covina has been appointed by the board of supervisors, with the approval of Governor Stephens, to a position on the state council of defense, a large organization of citizens of the state who will assist the governor in all civilian work appertaining to the conduct of the war.

Mr. Miller attended the first meeting of this organization yesterday at the Hotel Hayward in Los Angeles. Matters of food conservation and the distributing of Southern California for all active work in connection with the war were discussed.

Prominent men from each community in the state are serving on this board. They will act as a board of recommendation to the governor.

Two Shows Nightly—Matinee Every Saturday at 3

PROGRAM FOR WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY, JULY 16:

Notice This Fact—A Popular Screen Star For Every Night.

MONDAY—Ninth episode of "Patria," showing Mrs. Vernon Castle in "Outspaw and Scraggoat." Pathe comedy, "Drama's Dreadful Deal." A Christy comedy, "Father's Bright Idea" (something new in comedy for this theater. Get the Christy laughing habit). Another innovation for Monday night henceforth is the showing of Pathe News as well as on Wednesday night. Hereafter, Pathe News twice a week, on account of their growing popularity.

TUESDAY—Leaky presents Jack Pickford and Vivian Martin in "The Girl at Home." A typical boy and girl story with fresh romance that reminds us of a clean and pleasant life. We need more pleasant reminders of days gone by. "Patria" is repeated.

WEDNESDAY—George Walsh in "Melting Millions." One writer says it is really typical of California in atmosphere, not the cowboy, double-gun stuff, but real California. Walsh is a favorite on the screen. On this night the famous world-events of Hearst-Pathe News.

THURSDAY—Alice Brady in "Bought and Paid For." Other big attractions on this program have crowded the page for space, but we want to say that Miss Brady's splendid depiction in this play is worthy of the highest praise. It is a world-film. Christy comedy, "Those Wedding Bells."

FRIDAY—Madame Petrova in "The Waiting Soul." A great drama with a tremendous moral punch. Burton Holmes travels in Batavia, capital of Java.

SATURDAY—Pauline Frederick in "Her Better Self," a splendid Daniel Frohman production. Comedy, "Susie of the Follies."

PUDDINGSTONE CANYON DAM MAY IRRIGATE BIG ACREAGE

A reservoir site which covers 500 acres in what is known as the Puddingstone canyon near San Dimas, and which will have a dam 135 feet high, holding 17,400 acre feet of water for irrigating purposes, will be built if the state water commission issues a permit, according to M. L. Hazzard of Whittier, who is one of the parties interested, and who has been engineering the project for many months.

That the project will cost over a million dollars, and that the financial end of the deal has already been taken care of, is another statement made by Mr. Hazzard. The project in every way is entirely feasible, according to the best engineers, and its success is only contingent upon the state's permission to operate. The business will be operated as a mutual water company, much after the same fashion as the Covina Irrigating Company, and other like irrigating concerns.

The water is taken from the winter flood-flow of the San Dimas canyon, augmented by some of the flood-flow of Cattle canyon in further reaches of the San Gabriel canyon. A tunnel is to be built from Cattle canyon to San Dimas canyon. This water will be diverted from the mouth of the San Dimas canyon and taken east of San Dimas to the Puddingstone damsite, which is on the south of the town of San Dimas. The diversion will be made through a concrete conduit. The site is a natural one for this purpose. All the territory around it is high hills, with only one outlet, at the point where the dam will be built. The character of the soil is hard clay, with an almost hermetic condition in the shale-rock below.

It has been many times pronounced to be feasible to store water in this amount at this place. Covina men were interested at one time a number of years ago in forming a company for this purpose. Under the present plan the reservoir will furnish a continuous flow of 2000 miner's inches for 200 days in the year, 24 hours of the day.

The highest points in the hills directly south of Covina will be reached by the water from this dam. The bottom of the dam is at an elevation of 850 feet, and the top of the water 970 feet. A large portion of what is known as the old Chapman Heights ranch, of Kleinmeyer ranch, lies directly under this dam, and there is nearly 10,000 acres of vacant hill land in the direction of Puente, Walnut, and Spadre that comes under this irrigation system.

In the event that this project is allowed to go through, there will undoubtedly be an unprecedented amount of activity in the development of unirrigated lands south of Covina and north of Puente. These communities will be the ones most benefited. There are several protests against the project that have been filed by water and power companies, but it is understood that these protests are for the purpose of protecting existing rights, and that there is no legal reason why the proposed company should not avail itself of all storm flow in the winter.

COUNTY BOULEVARDS ARE BEING RUINED BY LACK OF MAINTENANCE

The county of Los Angeles is allowing over five million dollars worth of macadam roads to go to ruin, because of a squabble about bookkeeping that has been going on in the board of supervisors for over a year.

This is a very serious situation, and one which the taxpayers will look back upon with regret, if something is not done to break the deadlock that now exists.

Macadam roads are not built and then let alone for all time—they must be constantly maintained, as any sensible citizen knows. One year of complete neglect will bring about a condition in macadam roadway that cannot be repaired in many years. And, not only do we lose the efficiency of the roads in the meantime, but we must spend far more upon them when we get at it finally than would be the case if they are maintained constantly. The whole situation is revealed in that one word "maintenance." The roads must be kept in condition or they will go to complete ruin.

The sudden stoppage of all work on roads has come because of a large deficit in county funds, stated by some to be over a million, by others more than this amount. There is no evidence that this money has been stolen. It has been taken out of one fund and put into another. It can all be accounted for, according to the experts that have been working on the books, but it has been misappropriated—juggled around from one fund to another in a most unbusinesslike juggling.

But this has nothing whatsoever to do with the question of the saving of the roads. It is the height of idiocy to let our property go to ruin because someone has made a mistake in administration. No citizen who pays taxes wants to see the magnificent boulevard system of Los Angeles county ruined simply because the board of supervisors cannot agree to a system of proper accounting.

We voted $3,250,000 in the first "good roads" bond issue. We have since doubled that amount in work that has been put in on the fifty-fifty basis of the property-owner and the county. We must conserve this investment and continue to make it efficient. Macadam roads last indefinitely if properly maintained—they go to pieces in a year if all work is discontinued. Many boulevards leading into the city of Los Angeles are already showing the decided lack of upkeep.

Did you know that these conditions exist? Don't you, as an owner of these roads, want this investment safeguarded? While the board of supervisors is wrangling helplessly over something that certainly is in the category of spilt milk, we are losing our roads, our greatest asset. Let's get busy and bring pressure that will correct this idiocy. It is up to the citizens and taxpayers.

FORMER SERGEANT CLAIMS A BRIDE

Fred Preston, Whose Marriage Was Delayed Because of Border Service, Married at Home of His Sister—Bride Is Los Angeles Girl—Will Live in Covina After August First.

In the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Howard, 849 South Kingsley Drive, Los Angeles, on Thursday evening of last week, G. Fred Preston of Covina was united in marriage to Miss Gertrude Hancock, in the presence of relatives and friends from Covina, San Bernardino, and Los Angeles.

Mr. Preston is a son of Mrs. J. S. Tripp of Citrus avenue, and the home where the wedding was performed is that of his sister, known to many here as Edith Preston Howard. The wedding was one of the many that have been delayed because of military exactions, as Mr. Preston was formerly sergeant of Headquarters Company, Seventh California infantry, and solo clarinetist in the Seventh Regiment band. He was to have been married last summer, but the sudden calling out of the regiment for service on the Mexican border caused the postponement. His enlistment expired last January, releasing him from service.

Pink roses and California Shasta daisies were used in profusion in the home, including roses massed in the center of the supper table. The ceremony began with the strains of the wedding march, played by an orchestra composed of Robert Phillee, violin, and Mrs. Harry Damerel, piano, of Covina, and Carl Preston, violinist, of San Bernardino. The bride and groom were accompanied by Miss Marie Preston, sister of the groom, and by a brother of the bride in the capacity of bridegroom. Little Miss Dorothy Merwin of South Pasadena acted as flower girl.

Rev. S. J. McConnell, pastor of the First Methodist church of Covina, performed the simple and impressive ceremony. Immediately afterward, Mrs. Howard sang two numbers, accompanied by Miss Marie Preston, "Her Rose," by C. Whitney Combs, and "I Love and the World Is Mine," by Clayton Johns.

The bride was attired in an imported embroidered white gown of net and voile, trimmed with real lace, over white satin, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Miss Preston's gown was of a similar kind in pink voile, and she carried a bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. A. C. Hancock of 1327 North Broadway. After the wedding supper, bride and groom left for a stay in the San Bernardino mountains. They will be at home after August first at a residence prepared by Mr. Preston in Covina.

Among the houseful of relatives and guests, the following were from Covina: Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tripp, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Damerel, Robert Phillee, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Marshall, and Rev. S. J. McConnell.

FREE MASSES BAND CONCERT AT GLENDORA

On Thursday evening, July 19, at 7:45 o'clock, the Glendora and Monrovia municipal bands will be heard in concert at the band-stand in Glendora. A special feature of the evening will be community singing of patriotic songs of the nation. This event will be a fitting close of the Red Cross and liberty bond campaigns. All patriots of the valley are invited.

The Finding of Old Glory.

When the day came that our revolutionary fathers needed to design a flag for the new nation of their heroic founding they had but to lift their eyes to the heavens to find the banner of their faith and pride.

In the glowing west, in the burning clouds of the sunset sky—streaming across the wide horizon in alternate bands of flame and mist—they saw the symbol of their own fair dreams, mystic, mighty and baffling.

And as they looked there came a sudden rending of the fleecy mass by a wind of liberty's own sending, and through the monster rift thus made they beheld a patch of azure sky set thick with silver stars.

The stars—the stripes—the blue—Old Glory, blazoned in beauty across the wonder of God's heaven, for all the world to see. It is our flag—God make us worthy of it.—Anne Rankin in Southern Woman's Magazine.

False Economy.

Some people begrudge the expenditure of money to beautify the home or to bring the comforting message of friendship in time of trouble. To them flowers are of no use, pictures and music a waste of money. But a life restricted to things that go into the pot or are worn on the back results in starving the spirit. "If I had two loaves of bread I would sell one of them to buy white hyacinths to feed my soul." That was the terse and poetic sentiment of a truth oft neglected.

Even the poor need other things more than they need money. The money will be gone next month, but the memory of a great bunch of wild flowers remains. "Flower missions" furnish a beautiful ministry that almost any Sunday school class can exercise. Send your posies to the hospitals or to the children of the slums.—Christian Herald.

Ministers' Sons.

An investigator finds that one-twelfth of all the men whose names appear in "Who's Who" are sons of preachers. Four presidents were sons of ministers—Buchanan, Arthur, Cleveland and Wilson. Three of the great Boston group of writers—Emerson, Lowell and Holmes—were of ministerial parentage, so were Parkman and Bancroft, also the remarkable Field brothers—Cyrus W., David Dudley and Stephen J. The influence of the eminent Jonathan Edwards appears to have extended far down in the line of his descendants, for the list include one vice president, three senators, thirty judges, sixty authors, twelve college presidents, and not one of the 1,394 who were traced was ever convicted of a crime. The list of clergymen's distinguished sons could be greatly extended, for they are to be found in every line of activity.—Indianapolis Star.

How Houses Explode.

The most remarkable phenomenon connected with tornadoes is the explosion of houses, which literally burst, scattering their fragments in all directions. Sometimes substantial dwellings are carried high into the air and then explode.

It is now understood that this is due to the fact that the "funnel cloud" (revolving at a rate of at least 500 miles an hour) has a vacuum inside. Thus it sucks up everything in its path, even emptying wells. It sucks all the air from around a house over which it passes, and the house (a vacuum being thus created outside of it) promptly explodes, owing to the pressure of the air, at thirty pounds to the square inch, from within.

The house, in a word, is transformed into a bomb.—Philadelphia Press.

About Temperature.

The best authorities on the science of meteorology tell us that without the various changes in the temperature there would be a perfect calm at all times in all parts of the globe. A uniform and unvarying barometric pressure would everywhere prevail, and there would be no change of seasons, no evaporation or condensation, no clouds and no rain. In short, without changes of temperature, which we sometimes think so uncomfortable, the atmosphere would soon become poisonous, stagnant and incapable of sustaining human life.

Awkwardly Put.

"I grovel here before you in the dust!" observed the impassioned youth as he sank on to the drawing room floor.

"I don't know what you mean by dust," replied she coldly. "I look after this room most carefully myself every morning."—London Tit-Bits.

Top and Bottom.

"My friend," said the long haired passenger to the young man in the seat opposite, "to what end has your life work been directed?"

"To both ends," was the reply. "I have the only first class hat and shoe store in the village."

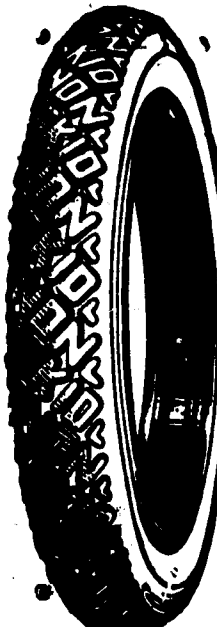

To Clarify Fat.

Fat is easily clarified if a few pieces of raw potato are added to it and then it is heated slowly in the oven or on top of the stove. When it ceases to bubble, strain through cheesecloth and let it stand till firm. Keep in a cool place.

Good Reason.

"Why don't you ever laugh at any of my jokes?" "Because I was brought up to respect old age and feebleness."—Baltimore American.

No man gets rich whose pocket is a dog station instead of a terminal.—Youth's Companion.

THE ROAD TO MADNESS.

When do you think the war will be over? This is the question that is constantly in the air, and it is absolutely a useless waste of time and breath. Wondering, hoping, sleeplessly-tossing over this question leads to madness, and while we are of course all obsessed by this query, we can do nothing to hasten the desired end by crystal-gazing into the future for this answer.

Your government hears it in a most practical fashion by preparing for at least two years of fighting. The cantonments for the troops in France are being built with an idea toward a certain permanency. Orders for provisions and munitions cover a period of six campaigns, or two years. Some pessimists in high places say it will take six years—eight years—to conquer Germany. There is no more ground for this statement than for the one that Germany is starving, and cannot hold out three months longer.

You may read within a week that the war has collapsed. We may be still fighting in 1925. The world is engaged in a gigantic orgy of house-cleaning, with attendant misery, discomfort and indecision for every individual. But things will be sweeter and cleaner forever, when we are done.

E PLURIBUS UNUM.

An orange and lemon grower of the San Gabriel valley has been chosen president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel valley—C. A. Griffith, whose management of the A. P. Griffith estate between Azusa and Covina has been conspicuously successful.

A Baldwin Park man has been chosen vice-president of the organization—D. J. Shultis, who was the originator of the idea of forming an association of all the chambers of commerce of the valley, and the man who has made a community out of the bare plains—a man who has accomplished things in Baldwin Park that his best friends said were impossible.

The community association idea is gradually and painfully taking the place of the chip-on-the-shoulder, small-town, jealous, stand-offishness that has been such a squeaking wheel in the progress of this valley—and other valleys.

There are hundreds of good business reasons why Glendora, Azusa, Puente, Covina, Baldwin Park, San Dimas, and other communities of the valley should work together as one town. The old-time dissension has gone, but in its place has appeared apathy. It is the business now of united associations to destroy apathy. Having lost sight of old jealousies, it is now necessary to really do something, not for Covina, but for the whole valley—not for 2000 people, but for 10,000 people.

How strong are you?—is the question that is put in some fashion by the powers that control affairs in every state and county. And it would be something to say that we are 10,000 strong, rather than 2000 strong. City and town boundaries are imaginary lines. They do not in reality exist. First for the valley, should be the motto of every citizen, no matter in what town he may do business and pay taxes. The lesson is obvious, and we believe that Griffith is a man who can make this lesson fruitful. At all events, we must all get together and give him the biggest chance any man has ever been given to really do something for this valley.

AN APOLOGY.

The management of the Argus regrets that an editorial which recently appeared in the paper was construed in a manner which was entirely unintended, by members of the Church of the Brethren. Members of the Brethren church have long been among our most esteemed subscribers and friends, and we wish to assure them that we are sorry we gave any of them cause to think we might not appreciate their support and patronage of the past and wish to continue the same.

Presbyterian Ladies Give Moonlight Social

A moonlight ice cream social was given last Friday evening on the spacious lawn of Mrs. J. M. Smith on San Bernardino road by the Pastor's Aid of the Presbyterian church. The ladies of the Aid were assisted in serving ice cream and cake and cones by the young ladies of the Christian Endeavor societies, who also sold home-made candies at decorated tables. A program proved most entertaining, and consisted of a reading, "Our Folks," by Luella Roberts; two readings, "De Sweeta Soil" (T. A. Bailey), and "America For Me" (Henry Van Dyke), by Kathryn Lipke; trombone solos, "Golden Wedding" and "Consolation" (Mendelssohn), by Henry Brown; and cornet solos by Boyd King, who played "Day After Day" (John St. George), "The Brigand's Love Song" (W. H. Petrie), and several encores. Miss Evelyn Smith, daughter of the hostess, also added to the program with several well-rendered piano solos.

German Lutherans Hold Annual Picnic

About one hundred members of the German Lutheran church of this city, with their families and friends, picnicked in Brookside Park, Pasadena, on Tuesday, July 10. The entire crowd was taken over in autos to one of the most beautiful parks in the southwest. Brookside park is fast becoming one of the playgrounds of the county, where daily there are large crowds of picnickers. There is a large open air plunge where the youngsters and some of the older ones enjoyed a swim. The men of the party made good use of the horse-shoe grounds, and the croquet grounds were also put to good use. The usual bounteous picnic lunch was served at noon and the party returned home after one of the most delightful of these annual events.

CREDIT

The world could not exist commercially without credit. Since man became an intelligent being, credit has been the main-spring which has raised nations and individuals from obscurity to wealth and fame.

Credit means industry, and industry thrift, and thrift progress, and progress wealth.

But credit is a curse too, and must be handled judiciously. Use it only when necessary and meet your obligations promptly. You may lose your land and gold, but once establish a reputation for promptness and you are welcome among kings.

Keep your word.

RANCHO EL RETIRO
ARBOR PARTY

Home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Griffiths Place of Entertainment For Many Matrons and Patrons of Eastern Star —Garden Alight With Lanterns and Alive With Music and Dancing.

Under the wide-spreading branches of oaks and pines at "Rancho El Retiro," home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Griffiths on Broadway, between Covina and Azusa, 275 matrons and patrons of the order of the Eastern Star, together with invited friends, enjoyed an original evening of entertainment Monday evening, and incidentally, La Paloma chapter of Covina returned with interest its debt to other chapters for the series of entertainments that have been enjoyed throughout the county during the past year.

The grounds of this beautiful home bear out the appropriate name that has been given it, for it has many cool arbors and huge trees for shade. The guests were seated about a large court, upon which was given an exceptionally-good program of music and dancing.
The grounds were lighted softly with Chinese lanterns.

Nearly all the guests from a distance came in machines, over 75 automobiles being parked on the grounds. The program featured the military drill of twenty boys from the Masonic Home for Children at Covina, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Miller. These young soldiers gave an exhibition similar to the one recently given at the installation of the Covina Knights Templar, and received round after round of applause for their snappy drilling.

Another number that was especially pleasing was the singing of two numbers by Mrs. Henry L. Marshall, accompanied at piano by Alice Anderson, and Spanish interpretive songs were very well rendered by Miss Marguerita Bullett of the Masonic Home. She accompanied herself on the guitar. A group of Greek and Egyptian dances given by Miss Dorothy Bryan in costume were pleasing interpretations of youth, daintiness, and grace. She was accompanied at piano by Mrs. Marion Coltrin.

Mrs. Griffiths was assisted in serving salads, ice-cream, cake and coffee by the ladies of La Paloma chapter. The affair was one that reached a high mark in entertainment in the valley, and will do much to continue the splendid idea of a series of entertainments by the matrons and patrons of this organization.

WILL HELP BUILD
LINDA VISTA CAMP

Local Contractor Enlists in Quarter-Master Corps—Will See Active Service For Period of War—Camp to Be Made Permanent One For Training of Men Under Selective Service Plan.

Jack White, one of the well-known contractors of the valley, whose home is in Charter Oak, left last Sunday to join the division quartermaster corps at Linda Vista. He enlisted in this branch of the service several weeks ago, and has been waiting for orders.

White goes into military service with the rank of sergeant, based on his ability to handle a gang of men in carpenter construction. He passed the examination with a high rating. He will be known in the service as an overseer in quartermaster corps construction work.

The work of completely housing the camp at Linda Vista is to be rushed as rapidly as the government can speed up the work. It is hoped to have this camp ready for the men that are within a few weeks to be called into service through the selective draft system. The men called from the list printed in another portion of this newspaper will occupy this camp at Linda Vista.

Large gangs of carpenters, plumbers, masons, and other construction men are being sent this week to Linda Vista, and it is the plan to build a permanent cantonment at this place that will accommodate 30,000 men. The camp is to be built on the plan used on the Mexican border last year, when one company kitchen and lavatory were built for each company, with shower baths for each battalion. The Linda Vista camp will be more properly a garrison, with the troops completely housed, and with permanent sanitation.

No tents will be used, as the government's available supply of tents must be used where troops are on the move.

Jack White has enlisted for three years, followed by two years of reserve duty. This means that he will serve during the active period of the war, and in times of peace will be called up for fourteen days of service in the field each year. Mrs. White will remain at her home in Charter Oak during her husband's absence.

Osteopath Spends Short
Vacation in Moutains

Editor Covina Argus:

Sometimes a fellow must blow his own horn, so I am going to do it this time. We have heretofore resorted to the beach for our summer rest, but this time we are at the much-talked-of "Camp Baldy." It is the finest of all mountain resorts at which I have ever camped. Take that for what it is worth.

What I want to especially say, I seldom go to a camp but what I am called to do some work in my line.

Last Sunday evening the opportunities came close together. The first, too much mountain climbing for one thing.
They said she had "heart" (fainting) spells. I found her heart good, but such convulsions!—forty of them, someone said. I did not have time to count them, but we worked nearly two hours before they were stopped. They were looking for a hypodermic doctor; had to take the osteopath, as the others had cleared out just a little while before the excitement. This, by the way, was n't the first attack of the kind she had,
so there was something more back of it.

My next patient was impatiently suffering a sick headache; had had them for 12 years, every month. Took three hypodermics to give her part relief. I had no hypos with me, so I gave her what I had, and good measure. In about three-quarters of an hour she was much relieved; slept well all night, and woke up well in the morning. She said she usually had spent full three days in bed, with all the other troubles that go with it.

Now I am glad I was on the ground to help them; I am in Covina the rest of the year and can do the same right here.

Respectfully,
C. F. FINGERLE.

ATTENTION, R. S. C. C.

It will be only about two weeks until the beans will be in bloom. After that they will need little more attention until the harvest time. Have you done your share?

Just now the irrigating and cultivating are very important. The weeds, too, need attention. The schedule of time for work on each plot will be posted on the north entry of Reed building. If you are not sure when you are needed, go read it. Now is the time to show your patriotism. Give up a morning's play, or if you have work to do at home, get up a little earlier. Parents, we solicit your interest.

Clyde King Enlists
With Mosquito Fleet

Clyde King, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.
L. King of this city, a young man educated in the public schools here, and a student at Pomona college, is enlisted as a gunner's mate in what is known as the mosquito fleet, operating out of San Pedro harbor.

King is not quite 21 years old, and was not subject to the selective service draft, but volunteered for service, together with nine other students of Pomona college. They are all quartered together on the great municipal pier at the harbor, and are receiving training in the small submarine destroyers that have been made from converted yachts and launches.

In the same service with him is Hoyt Leisure, spoken of recently in this newspaper as having joined this branch of the service. The young men are receiving intensive training for the purpose of protecting the harbor and coast from possible submarine attack. The small boats are heavily armed, and are very swift. This service is a comparatively new one, and hundreds of small yachts and launches are being manned all along both coasts of the United States. A large portion of the men in this service are the younger college men. It is a branch of the service that furnishes much excitement and danger at times, but has proved to be very efficient in the English waters, where they have been operating since 1915.

Mr. Ernest H. Maeding and Miss Adah R. Fredericks were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Schwartz, on Willow avenue, Saturday evening, July 7th, at eight-fifteen o'clock, by Rev. H. Robert Smith of Azusa. The double ring ceremony was performed in the presence of about one hundred guests. The couple proceeded along the path, strewn with rose petals by little Ada Pazin of Hollywood and Louise Hart of Puente, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played on the violin by Miss Esther Gleiss, accompanied by Miss Gladys Gleiss of Los Angeles. The bride was accompanied by Miss Hazel Briggs of Fresno as maid of honor, and Conrad Swartz attended the groom.

The bride was attired in a gown of white crepe de chine and shadow lace, and wore a long veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white rosebuds. The bridesmaid was carried in pink crepe de chine and garnied pink roses.

The couple took their places beneath an arch of asparagus plumosis fern and white carnations, and throughout the living rooms festoons of these flowers and ferns were used artistically.

The porch and lawn were lighted with Japanese lanterns, where a delicious wedding supper was served immediately after the ceremony.

Mrs. Maeding has lived in this valley for many years and has a wide circle of friends who have entertained in her honor on several occasions since the announcement of her engagement.

CHARTER OAK.

Club Year Closes With Chicken Dinner—

The last meeting of the year of the Charter Oak Thimble Club, when annually the husbands of the members are entertained in a manner that husbands are especially fond—a chicken dinner—was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Grogan on Cienega boulevard. This dinner party closes the club year of the thimble club, and there will be no further meetings until September. Two large flags draped the entrance of the house and smaller flags and flowers in red, white, and blue were used artistically throughout the living and dining rooms. At each place there was a tiny flag to mark the places.

There were in all about fifty present, and following the dinner an impromptu program of readings and music added to the enjoyment. Lester Seib of Hollywood gave several of his clever impersonations and sang a number of songs; Francis Grogan, son of the hostess, also added to the program with piano solos. Mrs. A. E. Curious Land, Curious People.

Near Cape Horn, in the islands of Tierra del Fuego, live the most curious people in all South America. It rains or snows or sleets nearly every day, and yet they look on their country as the finest in the world. They wear hardly any clothing and seem not to feel cold. Because he saw fires on the shore the explorer Magellan, the first European that rounded the Horn, called the island "the land of fire," which is almost the worst name he could have chosen. Their huts are made of bent boughs and covered with grass and give only the poorest shelter. The folk are vain, too, wearing necklaces of the teeth of fishes or seals and painting patterns on their bodies. Among them some colors have a novel meaning. White is the sign of war and red of peace. They are great mimics and will imitate voice and gesture perfectly.

Handicapped by His Name.

The handicap of a poet's name was illustrated in the case of Mr. William Wordsworth, who was the eldest surviving grandson of the poet. Mr. Wordsworth was a great scholar and a poet himself of high distinction. A volume of his sonnets was issued privately some years ago. On account of the similarity of his name with that of his grandfather, he always refused to publish any of his poetical writings, though pressed to do so by the people of such high authority as Matthew Arnold, who described one of his sonnets as the finest in the English language. —Montreal Star.

Odd Geographical Division.

The range of the Blue Ridge mountains in Pennsylvania is divided by a river every twenty-seven miles, as follows: From the Susquehanna to the Swatara, twenty-seven miles; from the Swatara to the Schuylkill, twenty-seven miles; from the Schuylkill to the Lehigh, twenty-seven miles; from the Lehigh to the Delaware, twenty-seven miles. At the next twenty-seven miles is a hollow of New Jersey, in which nestles a lake known as Culver's pond.

Right Thinking.

The quality of your friends is the quality of your thoughts. Think the thoughts of a thief and thieves will be your companions. Think clean, helpful, creative thoughts and surely your associates will be clean, helpful and creative. You attract to you what belongs to you.

Changed Ideas.

"Mrs. Smarty used to boast that she never let her mind run upon little things."

"Well, does she?"

"I should say so! She can't talk of anything but her baby."—New York Times.

Circumstantial Evidence.

"What makes you think all women hate each other?"

"Because a woman so seldom brings up a son fit to be another woman's husband."—Exchange.

To make knowledge valuable you must have the cheerfulness of wisdom. —Emerson.

Printing

PRINTING consists in having the most modern machinery and plenty of it, plus the human intelligence to manipulate the machinery. You cannot turn out good printing, nor can you compete in the printing world unless you have a highly-specialized shop filled with modern equipment.

EVERY AUTOMOBILIST knows that an automobile repair shop is not a success without the proper amount of machinery. A print shop is in exactly the same category with a modern garage and repair shop.

THE ARGUS PRINTSHOP has gradually acquired modern machinery, until it is now far better equipped than any other shop in the San Gabriel valley, between Pasadena and Pomona.

That is why we do better work on all jobs of printing than any other shop in the San Gabriel valley, and at competing prices. That is why THE COVINA ARGUS, your home newspaper, is printed better, (and commands more admiration from printers) than the many other newspapers of Southern California.

When you buy printing, or when you must put your automobile in a shop for repairs, look the shop over, and determine for yourself whether the concern can really deliver the work you are entitled to. Your common sense as a business man will tell you where to get your work done.

BARACA MEN HONOR TWO ENLISTED MEMBERS

The Baraca class of the First Methodist church held a very pleasant social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Warner Monday evening, which was in the nature of a godspeed to Ethan Allen Scofield and Frank Jessup, two members of Covina platoon, coast artillery, which company will probably go into active service on August 5.

The evening was purely informal throughout, but it was made plain that the class and the church will follow the fortunes of these two class-members wherever the American flag may cause them to go in the interests of freedom and world democracy. Mr. and Mrs. George Scofield and Mr. and Mrs. Solon Jessup were also invited guests who participated in the affair, as was also C. A. Gunmore, Y. M. C. A. secretary who will have charge of war work in the training camps. The boys of the class brought young ladies with them. The evening was spent in entertainment, and the hostess served refreshments.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AT BANQUET BOARD

The Covina chamber of commerce will hold a meeting tonight at the Covina Country Club, when a fifty-cent supper will be served, and addresses will be heard from Dr. J. B. Bell, city veterinarian of Pasadena, and Dr. C. L. Black, chairman of the county health board.

Members of the chambers of commerce of Azusa and Glendora have been invited. There are some special matters of interest to discuss in addition to a number of health questions that will be presented by Dr. Black.

TWICE-A-WEEK NEWS AT STAR THEATER

With the announcement this week that the Hearst-Pathe news service in pictures will be shown twice each week instead of once, as in the past, Mrs. Lulu A. Dietz of the Star theater has acquiesced to a growing demand for this depiction of world events. The pictures will hereafter appear on Monday and Wednesday nights—different pictures on the successive nights.

There is no question but that the current news pictures are growing in popularity, especially on account of the war. The service shows on this coming Monday night a regiment entirely composed of Harvard college students, ready to go to France when the troops are called out. The pictures also show the extensive coast guard service, and pictures of ruined towns and cities in France, seemingly in an endless panorama.

The programs for the coming week have a screen favorite for every night, such as George Walsh, Mrs. Vernon Castle, Pauline Frederick, Jack Pickford, Vivian Martin, Alice Brady, and Madame Petrova.

BARBECUE DAY AT "THE OUTPOST"

Ellen Beach Yaw Sings Star-Spangled Banner for Members of Loyal Legion at Home of General Harrison Gray Otis—Soldiers of the Past and Present in Participation.

General Harrison Gray Otis veteran editor of the Los Angeles Times, entertained the members of the Loyal Legion, including officers past and present of the army and navy, at his beautiful home, "The Outpost," in Hollywood on Wednesday, the affair being in the nature of an all-day celebration, with speech-making and barbecue.

Covina was resplendently represented through the appearance of Madame Ellen Beach Yaw, famous concert singer, who sang the "Star-Spangled Banner" in a setting of enlisted men at attention.

E. H. Lahee, former mayor of Covina, who is a Loyal Legion member and officer of the association, was aide-camp to General Otis during the day. While there were detachments of troops in service, and many active army officers present, the affair was especially in honor of the Companions of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, of which General Otis is president of the Southern California association. More than 250 guests participated in the event.

The old adobe house at "The Outpost" is one of the notable landmarks of Southern California. It was here the papers were signed that consummated the surrender of California by Governor Pio Pico to the United States forces under General John C. Fremont.

Two Covina men were present, William B. Thorne, who has been elected a member of the Loyal Legion, following the death of an uncle who was a member, and J. L. Matthews, editor of the Argus, invited guest of E. H. Lahee.

AVOID PREJUDICE.

It is an Evil Thing That Warps Judgment and Breeds Injustice.

Prejudice is an insidious thing. It creeps into the soul unawares. It leads us to say and do wrong things; it warps our judgment and leads to injustice, unkindness and even cruelty. It paves the way for hatred and malice. In proportion as we learn to clear our minds of prejudice we become better men and women; we win friends and dissolve enmities; we are more worthy of respect and confidence.

No one wants to be judged by false standards that prejudice sets up. Beware of judging others in such a light. Prejudice cramps the mind and the heart; it stands in the way of rightful growth of character. It is wise to search your heart and if you find prejudice there to set about to root it out wholly.

Do not be sure you of all men are unprejudiced. That is the danger, for prejudice is guarded by vanity. Seek to be just in all things, small as well as great. In all the relations of life be sure you are not judging another, not for his error, but from your prejudice. For the worst thing about this weakness is that it breeds injustice and unkindness and malice. It hurts innocent folk and makes no one happier.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

SNOW CAPPED ARARAT.

It Overlooks the Lands of the "Czar, the Sultan and the Shah."

Great Ararat, which shoulders its way some 17,000 feet up into the Armenian sky and looks down on the lands of the "czar, the sultan and the shah," although so truly the rallying point, as it were, for the Armenian people, is quite unknown to the native Armenian by this name.

The people who actually dwell within sight of its great snow capped dome, who look out toward it over the plain from Erivan, some thirty miles away to the north, or from the frontier mountain slopes away to the south call it by a variety of names. If they are Armenians they call it "Massis;" if Turks, "Aghri Dagh," and if Persians, "Koh-i-Nuh," or the "Mountain of Noah."

There are really, of course, two mountains, or, rather, there is one vast mass out of which rise two peaks, "their bases confluent at a height of 8,800 feet, their summits about seven miles apart."

Little Ararat, upon whose slopes it is that the territories of the three kingdoms actually meet, is some 4,000 feet lower than its big brother, but none the less, with its 12,840 feet, it is "none so little."—Argonaut.

New England's Charms.

"I have summered the New Englanders and wintered them; they wear," says Rollin Lynde Hartt in the Century. "I have fought with them and made it up. I have tried Montana—Paris, too—and been willing to return. Nowhere am I freer. One can spend little or much, dress as he chooses, know whom he will, devour beans or spurn them, dig potatoes, clams or Greek roots, and be a man for a' that; among friends somewhat slow to take hold, but incapable of letting go. As warm hearted as the Montanians, they are as liberal; at moments I have come near saying, 'The further east you go the further west you get.' I love the west. I love the south. Accident, not choice, brought me to New England. In her own quaint phrase, I like here."

In Southwestern Utah is a new resort with a "Wylie Way" Camp, the same kind that for years was so popular with Yellowstone National Park tourists. This located in Zion canyon, a scenic region of inspiring beauty, another American Wonderland, comfortably and quickly reached via Salt Lake Route and automobile line.

Let us tell you more about it, and also about the wonderful

YELLOWSTONE AND GLACIER NATIONAL PARKS

which every American citizen who can possibly afford it should visit. Truly Wonderlands of Geysers, Waterfalls, Glaciers, and Mountain Scenery.

Then there are the reduced round-trip fares to EASTERN CITIES, which may be attractive to you on certain dates during July, August and September.

Full particulars of all these, together with illustrated folders, at all offices of the

A Most Unusual Opportunity North Whittier Heights

Orange, Lemon, Avocado and Walnut Land and Groves

Protected by foothills from damaging frosts, winds and floods

We have some young Valencia Orange, Eureka Lemon and Marsh Seedless Grape Fruit orchards just coming into profitable bearing, that we will sell at subdivider's prices, which is considerably below the regular market value for the district, and on easy terms.

The production from the orchard will materially assist in paying for itself before the final payment is due; in fact, with proper care, enough fruit might be produced, the profits of which would pay the entire remaining payments before they were due.

We also have unplanted lands suitable for citrus, avocado and walnuts and young grafted softshell walnut orchards for sale in tracts of 5 acres and up.

Full information and descriptions will be furnished on request. Interested parties shown property by auto any day. See Grover T. Russell or Guernsey Maple, with
